We have made the difficult decision to discontinue providing judges' feedback to competitors. The reason is simple: many competitors were unhappy with their honest, truthful feedback or didn't agree with the feedback that they received. Our suggestion for those of you who want feedback on how you did at a show, or information on how you can improve yourself for your next show, is to look at your stage photos and compare yourself to the winner. The winners are always a good indication of what to aim for. We do provide a FREE posing camp where we explain all we are looking for Remember that the points below are what you're being judged on. All of these are very important. Take time to go through of these points below. We wish all our competitors the very best in their future competitions. What judges are looking for:
